Asian Games bound contingent

Don't be overwhelmed by occasion, Usha advices

New Delhi, Sept 9:

The Indian Olympic Association (IOA) on Tuesday, held a special send-off to India's contingent for the Asian Games 2026, as the country's athletes prepare to represent the nation at the continental sporting showpiece in Aichi-Nagoya, Japan, from September 19 to October 4.

The ceremony brought together athletes, coaches, support staff, dignitaries, and partners as Team India prepares to embark on its Asian Games campaign with the aim of delivering strong performances on the continental stage.

The event was attended by Mansukh Mandaviya, union Minister of Youth Affairs & Sports; P.T. Usha, President, Indian Olympic Association, alongside athletes, coaches, support staff and partners.

Speaking on the occasion, Mandaviya said, "There is no shortage of talent in this country. Day by day, year by year, we are moving forward, and we have to change the pressure into performance, the opponent into an opportunity, and the opportunity into an achievement. I have complete faith that our contingent will perform well at the Asian Games and increase the pride of the country."

Usha added, "Do not be overwhelmed by occasion; make the occasion remember you. Look at yourself and remember how far you have come. You have earned your place among the best in Asia. Don't carry the weight of expectations, carry the strength of them. Go out there, enjoy the competition, and give everything you have. Go with confidence, courage, humility and the belief that you can compete with anyone in Asia."

A key highlight of the send-off ceremony was a panel discussion featuring Olympic medallists Swapnil Kusale, Commonwealth Games gold medallist Asmita Dey, Commonwealth Games medallist and weightlifter Gyaneshwari Yadav and kabaddi star Pawan Sehrawat.

Speaking about participating at the Asian Games, Judoka star Asmita said, "The Asian Games are very tough. Judo itself comes from Japan, and there are judo masters in my weight category, players ranked 7th, 8th, 14th in the world. To win this medal, I'll have to prepare like never before and be ready to defeat every one of them."

The Asian Games 2026, running from September 19 to October 4 in Aichi-Nagoya, will see Indian athletes compete across a wide range of disciplines against the continent's strongest sporting nations.

Building on the country's historic performance at the 2023 Asian Games, where India secured 107 medals, the IOA and the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports have expressed confidence that this year's contingent is well-prepared to add to that legacy and return with pride for the nation.

India's angry uncles..!

Our Prime Minister recently at a college gathering where he had been invited to speak, compared those who constantly question his Government to naraaz fufas, the permanently upset uncles at a family gathering.

I immediately imagined one such Indian gathering where an uncle sat in a corner wearing the expression of a man who had discovered that the samosas were funded by his brother with whom he had had a fight during his childhood.

"Why are you sulking, Fufaji?" asks a youngster.

"I am not sulking," he replies. "I am asking why the new sofa cost so much."

The room falls silent.

Grandfather switches off the fan. Auntie drops the chutney spoon. A cousin whispers, "Careful. First you question the sofa. Then you become a dimagi Naxal."

Poor Fufaji stares at his samosa. Until that moment, he had imagined that asking where the family money went was called responsibility. He now discovers it is negativity.

Is this the lesson being served to our youth?

In our so called democracy, if somebody asks why a project was needed, why it cost what it did, why promises were not kept, or whether another priority deserved attention, do not answer. Give the questioner a funny family label and invite everyone to laugh.

The Statue of Unity was questioned. UPI was questioned. High speed trains were questioned. The new Parliament building was questioned.

And why not?

Public projects are paid for with public money, which is the money you and I pay as taxes. Questions do not automatically make a project bad. They may make it better, cheaper, safer and more accountable.

A democracy without questions is not a democracy. It is a family WhatsApp group where only the administrator may post.

Our political vocabulary is becoming wonderfully efficient. A critic may first be called a naraaz fufa. If he persists, he becomes anti national. If he reads, researches and produces figures, he may be promoted to dimagi Naxal. Apparently, thinking itself is suspicious, especially when the thought does not arrive wearing the correct party scarf.

What then should our universities teach?

Students, memorise everything, repeat everything and applaud everything. Do not ask why jobs are scarce. Do not question examination leaks. Do not wonder why institutions weaken. Thinking can be dangerous. Independent thinking can be positively seditious.

The irony is delicious. A political leader enters a celebrated college, a place built to sharpen minds, and there he mocks troublesome minds.

It is like addressing a culinary school and warning pupils against cooking.

That upset uncle may be irritating. But occasionally he may notice that the roof is leaking while everyone else is praising the chandelier.

So let the uncle ask. Let the student challenge. Let the citizen question.

Because the most dangerous relative in India is not the angry uncle.

It is the smiling nephew who has been taught never to think…!

South struggle against East in Duleep Trophy

Chennai, Sept 9:

Veteran pacer Mohammad Shami produced two timely strikes in short spells as East Zone tightened their grip on the Duleep Trophy final, leaving South Zone struggling at 242 for six at the end of the third day at the MA Chidambaram Stadium in Chennai on Tuesday.

South Zone still trail East's mammoth first-innings total of 708 by 466 runs and face a daunting task to even avoid the follow-on, let alone save the match.

Captain Tilak Varma was unbeaten on 56 off 133 balls at stumps, with CV Milind accompanying him on 2. Shreyas Gopal's dismissal for 26 late in the day further dented South's hopes after he and Tilak had put together 66 runs in 26.4 overs.

Shami, 36, finished with impressive figures of 2/17 from three spells, repeatedly troubling batters with his disciplined line and lengths. While the figures may not appear spectacular, Shami's control and ability to strike when partnerships began to develop provided East with the edge on a pitch that had offered little assistance to the bowlers over the first two days.

The right-arm pacer bowled a tight stump-to-stump line and rarely allowed the batters room to free their arms.

Shaik Rasheed and Devdutt Padikkal added 56 for the third wicket before Shami broke the stand by trapping Rasheed leg before wicket for 29 with a delivery that moved in just enough to beat his forward defence.

Shami returned around 20 overs later and struck again, dismissing Ravichandran Smaran, who had added 45 with Tilak. He set up the left-hander with a fuller delivery on the stumps before following it with two balls that came in. The fourth moved away and Smaran edged it to wicketkeeper Kumar Kushagra. South initially survived the appeal, but skipper Vaibhav Sooryavanshi opted for DRS and the decision was overturned.

Padikkal, meanwhile, had looked comfortable during his 62 off 65 balls, reaching his half-century with a four through third man off Mukesh Kumar. But Mukesh soon had his reward. Targeting Padikkal's preference for the pick-up flick, he bowled on the pads and induced the batter into playing the shot again. The mistimed effort was comfortably taken by substitute D.P. Das in the deep.

South managed only 61 runs in the middle session while losing three wickets.

Brief scores: East Zone 708 (Ishan Kishan 270, Kumar Kushagra 101; Tripurana Vijay 4/180) vs South Zone 242/6 (Devdutt Padikkal 62, Tilak Varma 56 not out; Mohammed Shami 2/17, Mukesh Kumar 2/36).
